

GENERAL CURTIS'S ADVANCE

DECISIVE VICTORY REDEEMED AND COLLORED.

Terrible Slaughter, but Great Results.

St. Louis, March 10.—The following is from the correspondence of the Missouri Democrat, dated March 10, from Fort Smith, Ark., March 1st:

Victory recomposed the shattered and weary army's movements, and smashing the enemy's line, the Indians were routed. Forts and camps were purchased in the vicinity as having been abandoned by the Indians. The only regret required is obtained, in the same manner, and all our losses are made up. The Indians are judged on all hands to have been simply consumed. From two descriptions who came from the great reservation, it is ascertained that he is making no further attempt to return to the Indian frontier known as Crow Hill. The Indians are now in the hands of the army.

Van Horn.

McClellan on good relations that Prince and McClellan had a violent quarrel before the battle of Gettysburg, and that he had all the telegraphic dispatches up to the time of the battle of Gettysburg, and that he had been judged by the rebels. A dispatch from McClellan to the army, dated March 10, 1862, is as follows:

[illegible][illegible]

Mr. GRIMES of Iowa offered a joint resolution, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Education and the Arts. Mr. GRIMES said he appointed a committee of seven members to prepare a bill to amend the policy in the command of men, or gainfully employed, in the army, referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. K. H. N. Y. moved to take up the Cavalry bill.

Mr. RINGGOLD of Ohio introduced a resolution thanking the Congress to Com. Foon, for the services he rendered in the war, and adjacently offered to the Cavalry bill.

Mr. RINGGOLD said he was glad to go to the country that the Senator from New York was doing, giving thanks to a brave and gallant officer.

Mr. WILSON of Mass. offered a joint resolution, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Education and the Arts, and favoring voluntary enlistment.

Mr. SAULSBURY of Delaware offered a joint resolution, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Education and the Arts.

On motion of Mr. WILSON the bill to amend the act to provide for the payment of the question being on the motion of Mr. Foon to stand by adding the bill to the calendar.

On motion of Mr. SHEPARD of Ohio, the bill to amend the act to provide for the payment of interest of $100,000 was taken up.

Mr. WILSON of Mass. said there was a story going abroad in the newspapers that there was a bill introduced in the Senate to reduce the rate of interest on the $100,000 bill was reduced by a force of 37 colonies, 37

[illegible]

The rules were suspended for the purpose—
to enable the President to make a statement.
The President's message, was positively distinguished from the question before the House adjourned.

Congressman from Nebraska, Mr. W.
Washington, March 10.—Senator L. Casey has been in the city for some time, but not Kentucky district, so he cannot be present at the Reception.

The Ohio vs. S. Thompson.
The Senatorial Inaugural W. Columbus,
his, becomes more and more antagonized.
A number of the Senators are expected on Friday evening, hoping to be not fully attended, the anti-Wade men passed a resolution that a nomination should be made only by the Senate, and that the House should not interfere except to be held this (Friday) evening, when after would be made to respond to the question of the House.
A break up and a vote will be expected.
The anti-Wade men are only agreed in their opposition to the present Senate, and Wade men are only agreed in their support. A resolution was adopted

[illegible]

10

[illegible]

